I like to think the bosses pull out a big book of Walford or Weatherfield history, open it up, close their eyes, stick a big pin in it and see who they land on – leaving them to have to write a plot for whichever lucky ex-character has the hole through their head. It would certainly explain a few things, anyway...

Last chance for love!

EMMERDALE | ITV WEDNESDAY

AS MOIRA DECLARES SHE'S LEAVING TOWN, CAIN STUNS HER WITH A ROMANTIC ULTIMATUM...

Moira concludes that she can only make a fresh start well away from the village

Cain pleads with Moira to stay – but will his appeals fall on deaf ears?

The pressure of life in the Dales prompts despondent Moira to make a drastic decision this week – as she announces that she’s leaving the village!

However, she’s reckoned without her ex Cain – and when he discovers Moira’s plan, the prospect of losing both his little boy Isaac and the woman he can’t live without propels him into action.

“Being apart from Moira is absolute torture for Cain,” sighs our Emmerdale sneak. “She’s been to hell and back in recent months, of course, but Cain has tried to be there for her every step of the way. Yet even in the face of his devotion, Moira insisted they’d never be together.

“So in an attempt to force her to admit that she still loves him, Cain gives her one last chance. He tells Moira that she has to meet him at a specific time and place, or it’s all over. And he’s in for an agonising wait as the pair face their own high noon...”

At the start of the week, Moira realises it’s time for her and Isaac to start afresh somewhere new. She’s still reeling from the absence of son Adam and grieving the death of daughter Holly – and after Faith delicately suggests that they could redecorate Holly’s bedroom for Isaac, Moira really gets to thinking.

“She decides she just can’t carry on living in the house where Holly died,” explains our spy. “Losing her eldest daughter has changed Moira, and she believes the only way she has a chance to move on is to get very far away from the place where it happened. She really has tried to go on with life in the village, but Adam’s departure was the final straw. Packing up and leaving is her only option.”

Ironically, Cain's ex Harriet – who's heartbroken that she couldn't compete with his feelings for Moira – is planning her own dramatic departure at the same time. Following her decision to quit the Church, Harriet's friends and neighbours – including Dan, Laurel, Kerry and Daz – gather in the café in the hope of making the vicar reconsider her resignation.

However, Cain's focus remains firmly on Moira, who does her best to explain her big decision to him. He'd managed to convince himself that he and his ex could make another go of things, so he storms off in the face of this fresh blow. But a heart-to-heart with Lisa prompts him to make a major move...

"Lisa insists that Cain can't let Moira go without a fight," shares our snitch. "So in a rare display of emotion, Cain pleads with her not to go – and he doesn't stop there. Leaving Moira in no doubt about how he feels, Cain delivers a heart-wrenching ultimatum: if she loves him too, she should meet him on the bridge at 5pm!"

As Cain heads off, will Moira turn up at the anointed place and reconsider getting back together with her ex?

Allison Jones

Faith inadvertently forces Moira into making a choice

“Moira makes Cain a better person!”

Jeff Hordley reveals the tangled emotions of his character's latest dilemma...

How is Cain feeling about the Harriet situation while all this stuff with Moira is going on?

He has huge pangs of guilt. He's even told Harriet how guilty he is about things. He feels awful because she'd been saying to him for a while that he needed to get back with Moira – but he kept saying no.

Did Cain really love Harriet?

While he cares about her a lot, I don't think the word love ever passed his lips with Harriet – though she might have said it to him. Cain felt that being with Harriet was the right thing to do, and he thought it would get him over Moira – but he kept getting dragged back into Moira's life.

Do you still think Cain and Moira should be together?

Yes, I think they work really well together. There's a very strong bond there, and Moira makes him act like no other woman can. It's like she grounds him – she makes him a better person.

Why has Moira kept pushing Cain away, then?

Because he was with Harriet at the time, and she and Harriet are friends. There's probably an element of her not trusting Cain, too. But mainly she knows how Harriet feels about him, so she's been trying to do the right thing for everyone.

The Cain and Moira storylines have kept you very busy over the past 12 months. Has the filming schedule been tough?

Sometimes it's a bit like wave after wave and you can't catch a breath – it's been intense. Put it this way, I was very thankful for that two-week break over Christmas!

Carla wants to know the state of play with Sinead...

...but she has more important things on her mind earlier in the week

Carla lives up to her dramatic reputation this week – as she seduces Daniel just days after a shock collapse sees her rushed to hospital!

Ailing from her kidney disease, Carla is forced to come clean to Aidan and Kate as a stint in hospital makes her face up to the life-threatening condition. But rather than spend her time worrying about the outcome of the donor tests her concerned family agree to undertake, she distracts herself by getting flirty with dishy Daniel...

"This is typical Carla – she's confronted with her own mortality, but still finds time to cause a scandal," laughs our cobbles informant. "The Connors are desperate to help her, and both Aidan and Kate go to be tested to see if they are a match. It's hard for Carla to sit and wait, so she heads over to find out how Daniel is doing at winning back Sinead. When he reveals it's all over, Carla decides to cheer them both up!"

Daniel can't believe it as Carla pulls him in for a kiss, and he's smitten with his sexy older woman. Later, they are snogging on the doorstep when stunned Sinead spots them. She was just coming over to tell Daniel that she wants them to try again, but turns around and walks back out of his life. And Sinead is not the only one horrified by the new pairing...

Peter has already seen Carla heading over to Daniel's flat, but never imagined there was anything naughty going on. So, after Beth heads into the Rovers to give Carla and Daniel a piece of her mind over hurting Sinead, Peter can't believe his ears. He's soon ranting at Carla for taking up with a younger man – until she reminds him that their marriage ended thanks to him bedding Tina McIntyre! Why is Peter so bothered?

"Toyah should be worried about Peter's reaction, because it's obvious he's as jealous as hell," says our spy. "The spark between Carla and Peter has never gone, no matter how much they try to convince the world otherwise. The fact she's got involved with his younger brother really bothers Peter. He can't bear the fact Daniel and Carla are hooking up."

So, is Carla playing with fire by rubbing Peter's nose in it as she embarks on a romance with his half-brother?

FINAL FLING?

Carla's dalliance with Daniel could be her last...

While outwardly Carla appears to be having fun, her future looks very grave indeed. The doctors tell her in no uncertain terms that she needs a kidney transplant – so with good mate Roy already ruled out as a potential match, it's down to her siblings Aidan and Kate to save the day. And if neither of them are suitable, the race will be on to find another donor.

Carla has never needed her family more – but will their efforts to help bear fruit, or will Carla's saucy liaison with Daniel end up being her last hurrah?

Will Phil frame Vincent?

THE WALFORD ROBBERS TURN ON EACH OTHER AS AIDAN DEMANDS HIS MONEY...

Vincent is losing his business, his reputation – and maybe his life!

The heat is on for the perpetrators of Aidan's heist this week, as the big man resorts to extreme measures to find out who has his stolen loot!

With the dosh from their job still nowhere to be found, furious ringleader Aidan wants answers – and suspects that Mick knows more than he is letting on. Meanwhile, Phil is desperate to keep Ben's attempted robbery of the swag a secret, and spies an opportunity to deflect suspicion on to Vincent. But who will Aidan decide is guilty of nicking his cash?

"There is no honour among thieves – and at this stage of the game, it's every man for himself," insists our Walford insider. "The gang thought they'd be kicking off the new year thousands of pounds better off – but now they're scrapping around, doing everything they can to keep Aidan from skinning them alive. Frankly, they've more chance of winning the lottery!"

Don't forget, it's not just Aidan who is after the money. His terrifying gangster ex Ciara is also on the trail, and is using returnee Mel to help her track down what she claims is rightfully hers. However, as Mel realises that she has to put down some roots in Walford to complete her mission, her presence doesn't go unnoticed by Aidan – who begins to question Phil's loyalties when he finds the pair in cahoots.

“There is no honour among thieves at this stage of the game”

What Aidan doesn't know, though, is that Mel has an ultimatum for Phil: find the money, or she'll blow the whistle on Ben.

Elsewhere, the sale of The Albert is in full swing as Vincent succumbs to Aidan's demands and confesses to Kim that they have to offload the bar. However, it seems her hubby still has one final parting shot for Aidan when Phil and Mel spot him chatting to an old police friend. Is Vincent grassing up Aidan to the Old Bill?

“It's certainly an option as far as he is concerned,” reports our mole. “At one point, Vincent was prepared to kill Aidan, so he'll clearly do anything to get him off his back. But you can imagine Phil's reaction when he confronts Vincent and finds out what he is planning!”

Phil saved Vincent's bacon once before, after Aidan turned on him during the robbery, so he's furious that he would risk putting them all in such a precarious position again.

However, as Vincent persists with his idea to get rid of their volatile boss man, Phil loses patience – and sees an opportunity to protect Ben by stitching up Vincent. And while Aidan takes matters into his own hands, Phil is desperate to find Ben – and eventually convinces Jay to help him contact his son (see p35).

But it's another of Phil's kids who finds themselves in need of his protection, after Mel uses Louise to gain access to No 55. As she snoops around his gaff, Sharon returns and wants to know what's going on.

Are we finally set to learn who has Aidan's loot – and what fate awaits those tangled up in the conspiracy?

We follow the tortured trail of the hottest theft in Walford...

AIDAN

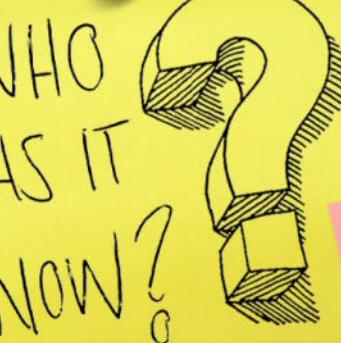

CIARA

After a stretch in prison, Aidan was hell-bent on reclaiming the fortune that had fallen into the hands of his ex, Ciara...

The Irish ice queen employed hired muscle to drive the loot across East London – but one of Aidan's men infiltrated her operation, allowing his gang to hijack Ciara's van.

THE GANG

WHO HAS IT NOW?

BEN

Ben prepared to flee to France with the cash he swiped. But after a break-in at the Arches, the contents of Ben's suitcase were swapped with a pile of worthless newspapers.

BILLY

At Aidan's request, Phil's cousin hid the money and jewels in one of the coffins at his funeral parlour – only for it all to mysteriously disappear.

InsideSoap hazards a guess...

JAY?

Ben's best mate knew that he was up to something fishy, and had access to the Arches. Might he have sabotaged Ben's plan to save him from making a terrible mistake?

He was 'the clueless one' among Aidan's hired thieves who didn't seem to know that he was being paid a lot less than the other gang members. But has Keanu been playing dumb all along as the perfect cover to make off with the money?

KEANU?

Our wild card guess is Phil's shrewd other half, who has known the men have been up to something dodgy from the get-go. Is Sharon the thief in the night who none of them saw coming?

Laura-Jayne snoops behind the big soap headlines...

EMMERDALE

CHARITY'S SECRET CHILD!

A shock new plot will rock the Dales...

If the rumours are true, the Dingles will receive another blast from the past when Charity's secret child turns up in town!

According to reports, Charity gave up the baby after being raped as a teenager, and has since buried her ordeal – hence why we have never heard of a long-lost sibling for her kids Debbie, Noah and Moses. But it sounds as if Charity's past is to come back to haunt her when her child comes looking for their mum...

"While Charity is a tough cookie, the reappearance of this child will turn her world upside down," reckons our village informant. "The guilt and having to open up to the person she abandoned as a baby, combined with the fact that she'll need to tell her family about the trauma she suffered as a teen, is going to absolutely kill Charity."

From what we already know of her past, Charity fell pregnant with Debbie after sleeping with Cain when she was just 13 years old. So will it transpire that the attack – committed by someone whose identity we don't yet know – happened in the years after Debbie was born? The Dingle dame was in her early 20s when she first arrived in the village, so that would make sense.

Dales bosses are staying tight-lipped as to whether the gossip is true, but the twist would certainly throw a major spanner in the works. The Dingles are currently embroiled in a bitter feud with Joseph Tate, who blames Charity for his father Chris taking his own life. Joe targeted Debbie as part of his revenge, and she is still picking up the pieces – so how will Debbie react when she learns that her mum has kept this huge secret from her?

"It's fair to assume Debbie will be shocked – but will she understand why Charity has kept it a secret?" muses our spy. "And how about this for drama? 'A new Dingle joins the clan to help them take on Joe in the war to come!'"

Well, that's us sold. Stay tuned...

Cain and Charity go back a long way, but does he know of the assault?

From what we hear, the shady character will attempt to mug the girls – but help could be on the way in the form of Amy's Uncle Peter. Will he reach Summer and his niece in the nick of time?

CARTER TO CASUALTY!

East End star Maddy Hill is joining the ED team...

Casualty is to add a Walford wonder to its roster of talented medics, following the news that ex-EastEnders actress Maddy Hill has signed up to play a new paramedic, Ruby.

Best known for her role as Mick and Linda Carter's daughter Nancy, star Maddy will begin filming on the drama next month, with her first episode expected to air over the summer.

"I'm so excited to be working with the BBC again on Casualty," beams the actress. "It's such a well-loved and respected show, and the role of Ruby is like no one I've ever played before."

NEIGHBOURS

Toadie's birthday is set to go off with a bang next month – as four more one-time Ramsay Street residents join Izzy Hoyland for a dramatic hour-long late night episode!

Toadie's 90s-themed party will see the return of Stuart Parker (star Blair McDonough), Sindi Watts (Marisa Warrington) and Lance Wilkinson (Andrew Bibby), along with Toadie's brother Stonefish (Anthony Engleman). Izzy's comeback has been confirmed – and the episode will also see the first appearance of Ryan Thomas as mysterious newcomer Rafael.

TAKE PLATT!

Gail's ex Martin is on his way back to Weatherfield...

Now here's a face we haven't seen on the cobbles for a while! Actor Sean Wilson is due to reprise the role of Martin Platt, whom long-time viewers will remember as Gail's second husband and father to their son David.

The character hasn't been around since 2005, when he left Weatherfield to begin a new life in Liverpool. But a dramatic new story for David is set to pave the way for his dad's return...

"With David rumoured to be at the heart of a harrowing male rape plot later this year, he's going to need the support of his family," explains our Street insider. "Martin is mentioned every now and again by David, who visits him off screen. But with troubling times ahead, it makes sense that his father would want to be there for him."

Martin is the only one of Gail's ex-husbands to survive a marriage to her, with all of her other fellas six feet under! That's not to say that their relationship didn't have its troubles, though, with nurse Martin catching the eye of stalker Carmel Finnigan and having a fling with Rebecca Hopkins.

He and Gail remained friends following their split – but Martin eventually left following a doomed romance with 16-year-old Katy Harris.

Speaking of his exit at the time, star Sean said Corrie bosses had done him a favour by writing out Martin – and he went on to be a cheese maker for Michelin-starred restaurants. He'll be back on the cobbles this March.

LET'S GET IT ON!

Ashley Taylor Dawson and Sarah Jayne Dunn react to Mandy and Darren's shock affair...

The juiciest flings in soap are often triggered by huge drama. But they don't come more sensational than bride Mandy discovering husband Luke's secret wife and child – before copping off with his mate Darren while still in her wedding dress! Stars Sarah and Ashley lift the lid on their hot plot...

Hi, guys! What exactly were Mandy and Darren thinking?

Ashley I think they both understand how dangerous this is when you have a family and kids. Plus Mandy and Nancy are best mates, and so are Darren and Luke – so the repercussions of this could be really bad.

Mandy and Darren used to date – so did the spark just never go out between them?

Sarah They do have that history. They were teenagers at the time, but there is always going to be something. They know each other and have seen each other go through good and bad, so hopefully the audience will buy into that. Ashley It's not just sex or an instinctual thing – it's been building up for months.

Sarah, can you sympathise with Mandy given what Luke has done?

Sarah She is really annoyed with him, and I think she has grounds to be. Luke could have easily told her the truth, and post-wedding she points out that she herself has a child by someone else and has been married before. Luke knows that, so how difficult would it have been for him to tell her that information?

What was it like filming the scene where Mandy smashed up the wedding venue?

Sarah So much fun – and we did it in one take! We filmed it in chronological order after the big scene with Gary, which you don't always get to do. I was already psyched up and upset in the moment, so it was great to do!

Soap SPY...

Baby on board!

Most new mums will say that juggling life and a newborn is a balancing act, but Hollyoaks star Amy Conaghan – who plays Courtney – has taken that to a whole new level in between scenes! From what we can see, fake baby Iona is already head and shoulders above the other kids in soap...

STOP PRESS!

All about Alf!

Home and Away is to mark its 30th birthday with a huge plot involving the soap's longest-serving character, Alf Stewart.

"We have a very big story featuring the much-loved father of the show," reveals Summer Bay head honcho Lucy Addario.

Ex on the street!

Steve McDonald's love life could be set to become even more complicated if former Corrie star Angela Griffin has her way!

The actress – who played Steve's ex Fiona Middleton – is open to a Weatherfield return if it means the pair hook up again...

Fear not!

Pregnant EastEnders actress Jacqueline Jossa has admitted that news of Lauren's upcoming exit from Walford came as a shock. "I was scared," she confesses. "But it will push me to try new things, which is good."

Killer at the funeral!

LUKE'S SISTER STEPH TAKES ON PHELAN AS LUKE IS LAID TO REST...

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

Luke's loved ones gather to say their goodbyes this week – but evil Phelan makes a mockery of his victim's funeral by attending the service!

The killer has already been taken in for questioning by the police, though has managed to stop the investigation in its tracks by casting doubt over Gary and Seb's reliability as witnesses. While the majority believe Phelan is innocent of Luke's murder, not everyone is willing to welcome his presence at the funeral – least of all Luke's sister, Steph, who returns to the cobbles to pay her respects.

"Unlike most of his neighbours, Steph caught a glimpse of the real Phelan before she left for Portugal," our Corrie insider reminds us. "After hitting Phelan over the head with a brick, Andy eventually told Steph that Phelan blackmailed him into carrying out criminal jobs for him – including burning down the garage! Steph knows Phelan is not to be trusted, and she's only scratched the surface of how terrible he really is..."

Phelan keeps a close eye on proceedings as he attends Luke's funeral

But rubbing Steph up the wrong way isn't the only trouble Phelan brings to proceedings. As the others toast Luke's memory back in the Rovers, he sets his sights on Gary after overhearing a row between him and Bethany about her job at the lap-dancing club.

"Phelan loves any chance to knock Gary down a peg or two, so he can't resist using the situation to his advantage," says our source. "He suggests to Gary that they go to the club to watch her perform! Eventually Phelan's taunts become too much for Gary, who slams his nemesis against the wall."

Soon, furious Steph is firing her accusations at Phelan as the packed pub looks on – while across the street, Tim's worries regarding Phelan prompt the anxious dad to whisk daughter Faye safely out of Weatherfield.

But as his enemies multiply, has Phelan finally pushed too many locals too far?

Unbeknown to Phelan, Steph is the least of his worries! His daughter Nicola grows suspicious when he refuses to take Eileen on a tour of the Mill site, so she encourages Gary to try to get a job there to keep an eye on her father. The two men loathe each other, of course, but Nicola persuades Phelan to give Gary some work in the interest of providing for his unborn grandchild.

With Gary as her inside man, is Nicola the key to Phelan's undoing? Or will the killer rumble her attempt to spy on him?

How he did her wrong

As a target of Phelan's viciousness, Anna has endured rape, heartbreak and prison. He blackmailed her into having sex with him to save her family and wrecked her relationships with Owen Armstrong and Kevin, and now Anna faces years behind bars for a crime she didn't commit.

How she'll defeat him

Anna won't stop fighting because it's her kids who'll suffer if Phelan wins. She's a lioness where Gary and Faye are concerned, and she knows their lives will be ruined if she gives up. Anna is driven by her maternal instincts, and she'll go to any lengths to protect her family...

NICOLA

How he did her wrong

Discovering Phelan was her biological father changed Nicola's life. Having finally accepted that mum Annabel had cheated on her dad Isaac, Nicola was sickened to learn that the affair was a lie – instead, she now knows Annabel was raped by Phelan, and that her mum and Isaac kept the secret all their lives.

How she'll defeat him

Phelan's survival relies on staying one step ahead of his enemies, but Nicola is intelligent enough to pick holes in his stories. It didn't take long for her to rip apart his web of lies about her mum, and if Phelan makes the wrong move, clever Nicola will be ready to pounce!

EILEEN

How he did her wrong

Phelan wronged his wife by fleecing her son Jason's inheritance money to build his dodgy development. He used Eileen to create a veneer of respectability, and has lied to her at every turn. Eileen's faith in him has cost her friends, family and her good reputation.

How she'll defeat him

Eileen's honesty will be Phelan's biggest problem. She's tried to convince herself otherwise, but Eileen knows in her heart of hearts that Anna is right about him. She won't rest until she gets the truth – and then she'll have no choice but to come clean to everyone.

EN who will PHELAN!

THE WOMEN OF WEATHERFIELD WHO WILL ULTIMATELY BRING HIM DOWN...

STEPH

How he did her wrong
Steph believed she was jilted by boyfriend Andy – but as she was boarding a plane for a new life abroad alone, he was Phelan's hostage. Following months at his mercy, Andy was gunned down by Phelan – who went on to brutally murder Steph's brother Luke, too.

How she'll defeat him
Steph is a natural-born interrogator, having unearthed Peter's affair with Tina McIntyre and Andy's identity theft, and she won't stop till she gets answers. Steph knows Phelan was blackmailing her boyfriend – and if she finds Andy's friend Matt and manages to put the pieces together, Phelan is finished.

FAYE

How he did her wrong

Thanks to Phelan's manipulation, Faye cut off mum Anna after coming to believe she had tried to kill her boyfriend Seb. Now she knows that Seb's fall from the ladder was an accident and that Phelan set up Anna for attempted murder.

How she'll defeat him

Faye has the perfect chance to catch Phelan because he's too arrogant to see a young girl as a threat. She's desperate to get Anna out of prison, and knows proving Phelan's guilt is the key. He's less likely to be suspicious of baby-faced Faye asking questions than any of his adult enemies.

GAIL

How he did her wrong

After reuniting with soulmate Michael Rodwell, Gail was ready for her happy ever after – until Phelan obliterated her dreams. Michael had almost exposed Phelan's development fraud when his dicky ticker gave out, and the evil builder watched him die without lifting a finger to help.

How she'll defeat him

Gail knows what it's like to love a serial killer – and while they are sworn enemies, Eileen will surely turn to Gail with her suspicions. Odds are that the former Mrs Richard Hillman will recognise all the signs and be only too glad to help avenge her lost love...

The daddy of all shocks!

THERE'S A BLAST FROM THE PAST FOR DAMON...

Damon is in line for a massive upheaval this week – when he's reunited with his long-lost dad, Buster!

The village barman hasn't been short of family dramas in recent months, so how will relations be between father and son? And why has Buster really returned?

"Damon hasn't seen Buster since Maggie kicked him out of the family home on Christmas Day a long time ago," explains Jacob Roberts, who plays Damon. "Damon doesn't know the real reason why. All he knows is Buster hasn't stayed in contact over the years – as far as Damon's concerned, his dad doesn't really care about him."

With Damon, half-brother Scott and best mate Brody trying to fulfil his mother Maggie's dying wishes, they are intrigued when they find a mystery telephone number and message scribbled on the back of her bucket list. It leads the lads to Buster – who walks into the Dog just as they are trying to phone him!

"Damon is shocked to see Buster," reveals Jacob. "After everything that's happened with his mum, Damon is already in a bad head space – so his dad suddenly walking back into his life could make things even worse. Buster seems like he wants to make amends for the past, but Damon doesn't trust him – and neither does Brody."

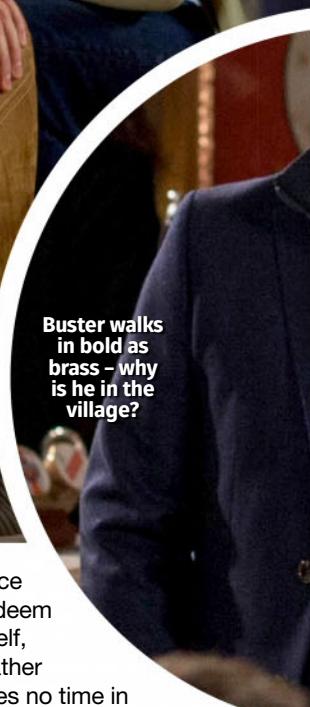

As Damon struggles with whether to give Buster a chance to redeem himself, his father wastes no time in flirting with the local ladies. This includes smitten Marnie – who is more than happy to let newcomer Buster stay at the pub for a few days!

"Buster is quite a charming character – and everyone else seems to love him," says Jacob. "He likes a laugh and a joke, and is pretty good at getting people onside. But Buster hasn't been there for a lot of Damon's life, so they've never really had any kind of relationship."

CAN ROBBO SAVE KAT FROM HIT MAN NOVAK?

Pregnant Kat fears she's done for this week, after paid killer Novak kidnaps her – and tries to crush her to a pulp!

The evil hit man has been hired to stop copper Kat from testifying against a bunch of corrupt fellow officers, and he's determined to do the job properly. But with Kat's boyfriend Robbo on a mission to save her, nasty Novak doesn't stand a chance...

"The race is on to get to Kat in time," exclaims Jake Ryan, who plays her heroic fella. "Robbo recalls that he found a business card for a wrecker's yard in Novak's car, so he goes with his instincts and heads there. It's a gamble, but he turns out to be spot on."

Once on site, Robbo scales the fence into the yard and sets about locating his missing girlfriend. And he's horrified to spot Novak at the controls of a crusher – which is about to destroy a car in which Kat has been locked!

"It's life-and-death for Kat – and Robbo gets to Novak with just seconds to spare," Jake tells us. "He pulls Novak from this enormous machine, knocks him out and takes his gun. He's just in time to stop Kat from being crushed alive!"

Robbo may have saved the day, but his work isn't done yet. While his pregnant girlfriend is at the hospital getting checked over, Robbo seeks out Novak a second time – and makes sure that he can never hurt Kat again.

"Robbo shoots Novak in the stomach!" reveals Jake. "But whether it's an accident, self-defence or cold-blooded murder, I can't give away..."

With Novak dead, Robbo now has to try to cover up his

Rana confesses her affair!

ZEEDAN'S WORLD FALLS APART...

Rana floors her husband Zeedan this week, as she tearfully confesses she's in love with someone else.

Zeedan is stunned when his wife admits to being unfaithful, but refuses to name her mystery lover. Horrified and heartbroken, Zeedan makes it his mission to discover who Rana has been seeing, and mistakenly presumes that it's his boss, Robert. Will he find out it's actually his good friend Kate who did the dirty on him?

"After Rana tells Zeedan, he's in shock and disbelief – he can't get his head around it," explains Qasim Akhtar, who plays the betrayed fella. "They've just come home from Luke's funeral, so emotions are running high. Zeedan assumes Rana is crying for Luke, so he comforts her. But then she starts talking about what a bad person she is, and when he asks what she means, she tells him she loves someone else!"

It's a bolt from the blue, and Zeedan is left reeling as he attempts to process what he's hearing. But before long he's trying to work out the identity of his love rival – and jumps to the wrong conclusion.

"Rana doesn't tell him who it is, so he goes through her pockets and finds this love note that has the Bistro logo on it," explains Qasim. "Zeedan automatically assumes it must be Robert, so he flies into the kitchen for a long time. Zeedan never expected Robert would do something like this."

Blameless Robert is caught by surprise, but he's already in the know about Rana's affair. Although Zeedan's behaviour is out of order, Robert does understand why he's so angry. How will Zeedan react when he discovers that Robert is innocent, and Rana's secret lover is his friend Kate?

"It's going to make things 10 times worse," predicts Qasim. "Zeedan's got no reason to

It's not long before Rana packs her bags and heads to stay with her brother Imran, leaving devastated Zeedan by himself. He soon reaches for the bottle, despite his religious beliefs – and it looks as if he could be sliding into the abyss.

Rana has found a soulmate in Kate

"Zeedan is set to go down the wrong path, like a lot of people would do in his shoes," warns Qasim. "Whereas I'd tell him, 'Move on, brother!'. Realistically he's not going to be okay straight away, but time is a great healer. Zeedan needs to crack on with his life."

Rana's confession comes as Kate decides to put their fling behind her – and take up with Sophie!

She returns from Devon to hear eager Sophie explain that Rana thinks them getting together is a good idea. While that's all the evidence Kate needs to move past Rana, things soon get complicated.

When Rana spots them together at Luke's wake, she's deeply upset, but Kate isn't in the mood – she tells Rana they must keep their distance since she can't bear seeing her with Zeedan. Following the emotional showdown, Kate resolves to move on, but Rana returns home to drop her bombshell on Zeedan. How will Kate feel about Rana's actions, and the fact there could be a future for them after all?

The Tracy of old comes roaring back this week, as she goes on a date with another man to punish David! But while she believes it's just harmless flirtation with a stranger, her fella Phil may not be what he seems...

Having arrived home from a holiday in Paris, the Metcalves are all loved up, but say their goodbyes as David heads off to a conference. Unfortunately, he leaves his phone behind, and Tracy later looks at it.

She can't believe it when she sees a text from Leyla, leading her to believe that something is going on between David and his ex. However, instead of confronting her husband on his return, Tracy allows her fury to simmer, and finds a way to take revenge after handyman Phil flirts with her.

"Tracy has inadvertently sparked a chain of events that could cost her family dearly," says our Dales source. "To her, Phil is just the local handyman and someone who's there for her to flirt with as she struggles with her suspicions about David and Leyla. But it seems there's much more to this than Tracy could ever have imagined!"

"Has Tracy revealed too much about her new life?"

Seething Tracy takes Phil to the pub for a drink and is soon flirting for Yorkshire as she knocks back the booze. Phil seems to be enjoying having a laugh with a pretty blonde – but Tracy's friends soon notice she's had one too many, and call her sister Vanessa to come to the rescue. Vanessa can't believe the state of her sibling, and is gobsmacked that she's got some random fella with her – and after she drags Tracy home, David tries to explain the text and appease his wife.

However, as Tracy and David appear to reconcile, what of her date? We later see the handyman looking at pictures of a younger Tracy on his phone, and it becomes clear that he knows more about the shopkeeper's wife than he's been letting on...

"We all know that Tracy has a bit of a past, and has done things she isn't proud of," says our mole. "Tracy didn't realise when she was talking to Phil – and letting her mouth run away with her – that he might have a connection to that past. So has she revealed too much to him about her new life?"

What is the nature of Phil's interest in Tracy? And what will his next move be?

Masood's recipe for disaster!

Masood ties himself up in knots this week, as he tries to swindle a winning recipe out of his Aunt Mariam in the hopes of making a killing on the market. But he soon finds he's bitten off more than he can chew!

As the week begins, the feckless fella begins his new job at Beale's Plaice and sets about revolutionising the traditional chippy menu. Unfortunately for Mas, his radical spicing on the chips wins few fans – but he does accidentally discover that Mariam's samosas delight rubbish collector Robbie.

After Robbie suggests selling them on the market, Masood soon starts to see pound signs – and embarks on a sly mission to try to steal the recipe and pass himself off as the master chef...

He runs into problems almost immediately when he's caught rooting around in cook books by Arshad and Mariam. They want to know why he's after the samosa secrets, but Masood can't tell them that he plans to flog them on the market. Luckily, though, an easy excuse presents itself!

"Mariam and Arshad presume he is trying to impress a date by cooking for her, so they're only too happy to give Mas the recipe," says our Walford insider. "We all know they'd like nothing better than to see Masood settle down, and this could be a sign he is finally sorting out his life."

However, Masood soon hits another stumbling block when his samosas are nowhere near as tasty as his aunt's. Desperate to keep Robbie and co onside, he begs Mariam to whip some up for his supposed girlfriend's clan, then takes them to Robbie and the rest of his customers, insisting that they were his creation! Sneaky Masood is very pleased with himself – until he realises Mariam has rumbled his tissue of lies.

BEALES' MEALS!

Walford's self-styled Kitchen King Ian snapped up Bridge Street Café straight out of catering college. Beales On Wheels chip van, The Meal Machine, Beale's Plaice and supposedly upmarket Beales soon followed, enjoying varying levels of business success.

TOO HOT TO TROT!

Masood has made more than one foray into food – the first being Masala Queen, a short-lived catering company/market stall venture with Ian Beale. Then the ill-fated Argee Bhajee restaurant came to a crashing end after the roof collapsed in the middle of Tamwar and Afia's engagement party.

vile men did to her, and I think it takes real bravery to stand up for herself like that – even when she knows her family will disapprove.

✉ | Claire

Craig seems to have accepted her choice – but let's see how mum Sarah reacts when she finds out!

BAD MUMS

I did have to laugh at Hollyoaks when Leela decided to give new mum Courtney some parenting advice, telling her that she should let her hair down every once in a while. Leela spends far more time having fun than she does actually looking after her kids! She's the last person Courtney should be using as a parenting role model.

✉ | Shona, Glasgow

At least Leela has Courtney's best interests at heart, unlike that witch Granny Campbell!

DADDY UNCOOL

Gary's reaction to finding out that Xanthe and Ben had slept together in Neighbours was classic – talk about an embarrassing dad! I couldn't stop laughing when he stormed into that Lassiters hotel room and scared the living daylights out of that poor guest by calling him 'Princess'!

✉ | Cynthia

Fortunately, Xanthe had Terese to turn to for some much-needed advice.

Craig's no lap dog for supporting Bethany's career decision

COIRA FOR THE WIN

I cheered so loudly when Moira and Cain finally got it on again in Emmerdale that I made my poor old mum jump out of her skin! Sorry Mum, but Cain and Moira are the best couple in the Dales – and we've been waiting long enough for them to get back together!

✉ | Tania, London

DIRTY DANCING

Why on earth would Corrie's Bethany want to work in a lap-dancing club after everything she went through at the hands of Nathan? If I were in her shoes, the last thing I would want is a load of sleazy men ogling me every night!

✉ | Kara, Colchester

It's an interesting choice of career for her – but some of you are backing Bethany...

GIRL POWER!

I know a lot of people will find it hard to understand Bethany's decision to go and work as a lap dancer, but I totally get it. She wants to take control of her body after what Nathan and those other

SHIP HAPPENS

Ben's exit from EastEnders was not very believable at all. Would he really swap a business in Walford – not to mention all his friends and family – for a few thousand in an envelope and a new life abroad? I would have been on the first ferry home! Make it real, scriptwriters.

─ Irene, South Lanarkshire
It took his friends and family long enough to realise that he'd gone!

ZAX APPEAL

Casualty made all my dreams come true when they finally got Zoe and Max back together! Seeing Zoe return for one last episode was brill, and I'm so happy that she and Max flew off into the sunset together – even if it does mean that I won't be seeing hunky Max on my TV screen every Saturday night from now on.

─ Jodie, Manchester
At least you won't be missing Max as much as poor Noel is!

TOWN OF TERROR

Why would anyone want to live in Summer Bay? I mean, there are the obvious perks like the bright sunshine, white sands and blue sea – not to mention the hot guys – but that's far outweighed by the number of gun-toting criminals that always seem to be running around that town!

─ Patrick, Rugby

Even serial killers need to get away from it all and just chill on the beach sometimes!

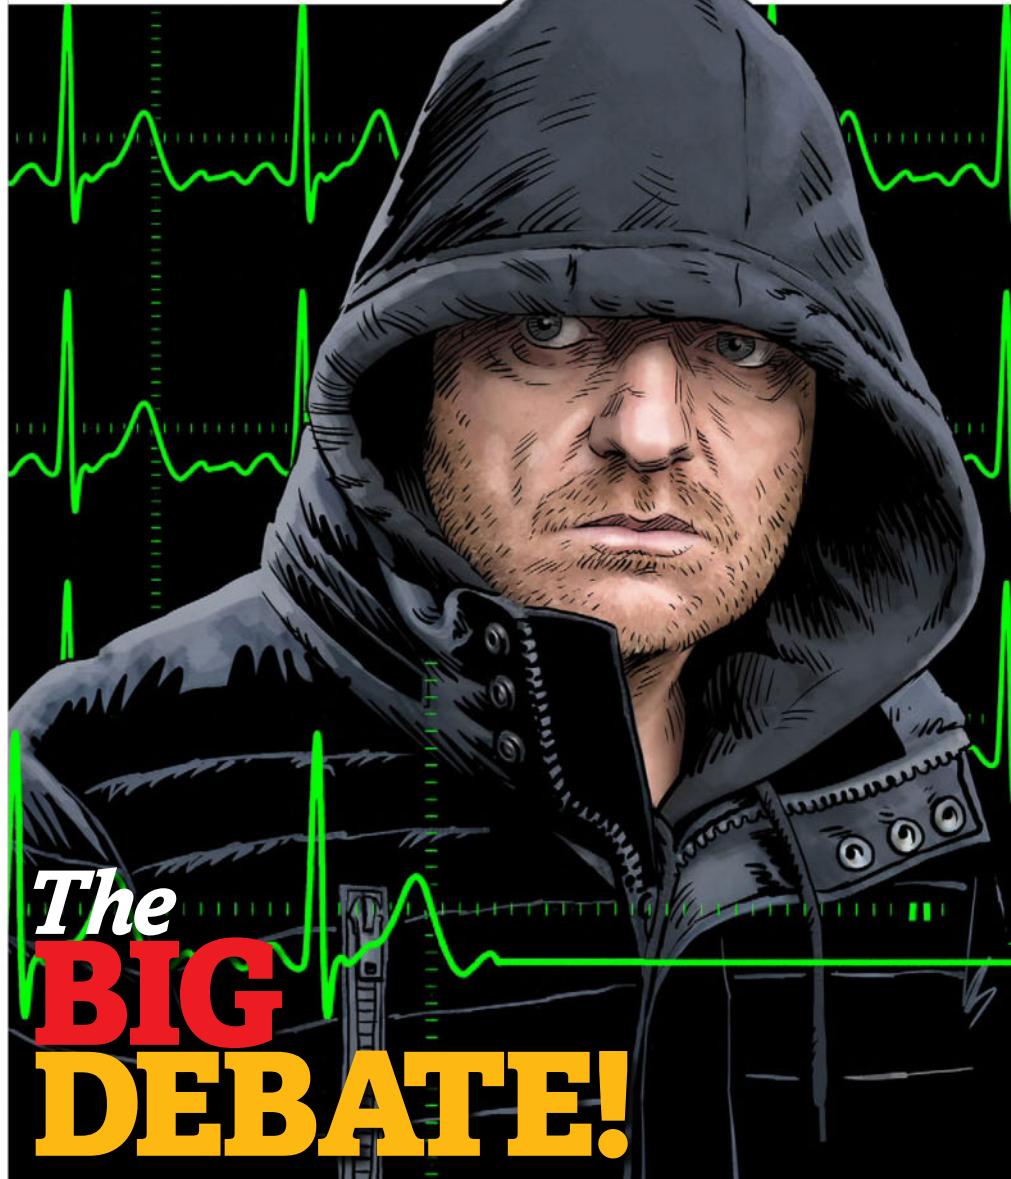

ILLUSTRATION: ROB DAVIS

MAX'S WORST WEEK

Things took a dramatic turn over at Walford General when Max barricaded himself in Abi's hospital room, refusing to believe that she was dead! But was it just his guilty conscience talking?

I find it really hard to have any sympathy for Max. While I understand that it would be heartbreaking for any dad to see his daughter in the state that Abi's in, he's forgetting that he was the one who put her there in the first place!

─ Fiona

Max wanting to take Abi abroad for pioneering new treatment just seemed like an attempt to ease his own crushing guilt. The truth is that she's gone, and Max can't handle the fact that her death is totally down to him.

─ Shane, London

However, some of you do feel for Max and what he's going through right now...

You can see why Max wasn't ready to let Abi go – if one of my kids was in that position, I'd be clutching at straws and trying everything I could to save them as well. I know that Max has done some terrible things, but he's going to have to live with Abi's death for the rest of his life. I think that's the worst punishment anyone could inflict on him.

─ Beverley

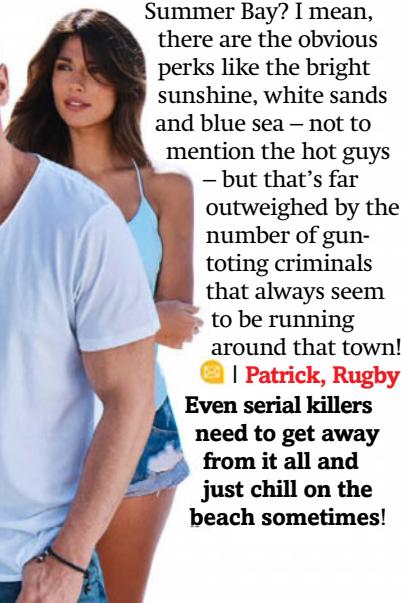

Everyone's been so quick to criticise Max's behaviour, but where has Tanya been these past couple of weeks? Her daughter is at death's door in hospital, and she's nowhere to be seen! What a farce.

─ Sandra, Wakefield

Why did EastEnders have to drag out Abi's death for so long? I was just willing her to hurry up and die already.

─ Imran

At least Lorna Fitzgerald's last weeks were easy ones!

Dystin's first role involving

SHAMELESS CASTING

I recognised the nurse in EastEnders who talked Max into coming out of Abi's hospital room. What else has she been in before?

💡 | Joanne

The nurse is played by Dystin Johnson – who you may remember from Channel 4's Shameless! Dystin played Monica Gallagher's girlfriend, Norma Starkey.

NOT THE ONE AND ONLY?

On the morning of his wedding to Sinead, Corrie's Chesney was listing all of his family members who couldn't make the ceremony, including his brother. Since when did he have a brother?

💡 | John, Leeds

Billy Brown is Chesney's older half-brother – Cilla is mother to both the lads, but they have different dads. We have met Billy once before, on the day of his mum's wedding to Les – where he was best man. He even arranged Cilla and Les a cheap honeymoon... which unfortunately was on the edge of a war zone!

“Rhona loves Paddy more than ever – but she has to let him go!”

As her character tries to move on with Pete, Zoe Henry reckons it's a wise move...

Rhona has been to hell and back in recent months, traumatised and broken after her abusive relationship with husband Pierce. But despite her hoping that lost love Paddy would prove the perfect antidote to such a terrible time, an unexpected dalliance with Pete has cropped up instead.

Rhona spends the night with the fella this week, before doing the walk of shame the next morning. And while she gets her head around the surprise situation, Rhona's real-life alter ego Zoe Henry sits down with Inside Soap and tell us she's all for it!

“Is Rhona attracted to Pete? Hell yeah! Who in the village isn't attracted to Pete?” hoots the actress, as she chats during a break from filming. “It's exciting, and I'm really enjoying it so far. I've rarely moved out of 'my circle' – Dominic Brunt [Paddy], Mark Charnock [Marlon], Michelle Hardwick [Vanessa] and of course Jonathan Wrather [Pierce] – for nearly eight years, so I'm a bit nervous. But Anthony Quinlan, who plays Pete, is absolutely adorable – a true gentleman and a dream to work with! It's been great.”

Paddy was Rhona's rock in the aftermath of her horrific experience with Pierce, so it's understandable that she's been craving a romantic reunion with her ex. Unfortunately, this desire

Between a rock and a hard place: Rhona is caught in the middle of dependable Paddy and buff Pete formed just as Paddy was getting back together with Chas – leaving heartbroken Rhona out in the cold.

“I don't think Rhona will ever get over her feelings for Paddy,” admits Zoe, who is married to her Emmerdale co-star Jeff Hordley (Cain), with whom she has a daughter, Violet, and son Stan.

“She was married to someone else before him, and she also had a relationship with Marlon – but I think Paddy was the true love of her life. She comes to realise, though, that whether it's forever or just for the short term, she has to let Paddy go – and ultimately, she wants him to be happy.

“He's been a tower of strength for her, and a brilliant support in everything she's been through – which is why she loves him more than ever! But she sees how content he is with Chas, so she's putting his happiness first.”

Rhona's unexpected night with Pete comes about following her attempt to win a date with Paddy during a charity auction in the pub. And the surprise pairing hasn't got off to the best start...

“Is Rhona attracted to Pete? Hell yeah! Who in the village isn't attracted to him?”

CONTINUED OVER ↴

FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

"Rhona was just trying to show that Chas and Paddy's blossoming romance didn't bother her – and her bid for Pete was actually intended for his handyman services!" grins Zoe. "It's Pete who's offered to take her for a drink, and that's something that never entered her head – I mean, it's Pete Barton! He's about 10 years younger than her, very attractive, and is as much of a car crash as Rhona when it comes to relationships. But then he stands here because he's fallen asleep!"

After groggy Pete has a strip torn off him by Vanessa, Rhona discusses her woes with unlikely agony uncle Doug, who puts her romantic future into perspective.

"Doug is just amazing," explains Zoe, 44. "He's sort of a dad for her, and says that sometimes you have to force yourself to move on and put stuff behind you, and he encourages her to move away from Paddy. He's a wise owl and knows what's going on. He gives her some sound advice."

Doug's helpful words come at just the right time, and Rhona subsequently strides into a new date with Pete ready for anything. And this time, sparks fly...

"This is all very thrilling for Rhona, and she's a bit giddy about it," laughs Zoe. "She can't believe Pete's giving her a second look, and has to pinch herself a bit. They've got quite a cute little chemistry going on and they've both had a terrible year, so why not? One thing leads to another after their date, but Rhona doesn't get carried away – she's just finding her feet again, one day at a time..."

New year, new love – so bring it on! But while Zoe's aware that many Emmerdale viewers are loyal to the Rhona and Paddy combo, she's keen for her character to enjoy some respite from heartache, and have a bit more fun to boot.

"I'm often asked by viewers when Rhona and Paddy are getting back together – people do enjoy them being a couple," shares the star. "But we're creatures of habit, aren't we? Everyone has known them together for a long time – it's as much of a shift for fans as it is for me."

"This thing with Pete has come out of nowhere – Rhona hasn't chased him, but it's a lovely surprise. She should cut herself some slack, because a little bit of what you fancy does you good. What I say is: go for it, girl!"

The rebound GUY!

Pete has been cast aside by several fickle females – will Rhona do the same?

DEBBIE DINGLE

Pete went head-to-head with brother Ross to win Debbie's affections – and when Pete and Debbie got engaged, it seemed he had the girl. But Debbie and Ross were sleeping together behind his back – an unfortunate fact revealed to Pete on his wedding day. Ouch!

MOIRA DINGLE

Viewers were stunned when Pete threw himself at his Auntie Moira – and he was mortified when she rejected him. But after the death of her daughter Holly, Moira moved in to kiss Pete, and they ended up in bed together. Fortunately, it never happened again...

LEYLA HARDING

Pete and Leyla wasted no time in getting engaged during their whirlwind romance. Unfortunately, they both realised the error of their rushed nuptials on the wedding day itself – and came face to face while making their escape via the toilet windows at their venue!

PRIYA KOTECHA

While Leyla's wedding nerves were down to her mixed feelings for Pete, the groom was crippled by a guilty conscience – as he'd been carrying on with Leyla's best pal, Priya! That steamy fling fizzled out, and Pete was angling for a reunion with Leyla – but his mum Emma ruined his chances by blabbing his secret.

MUM'S the word!

AS TOYAH STRIKES A SHOCK DEAL WITH EVA, GEORGIA TAYLOR
TELLS US HER ALTER EGO'S LIFE WILL BE CHANGED FOREVER...

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

When Eva and Toyah were introduced to one another, it was hate at first sight, and a stretch to imagine they could ever be friends – let alone make the jaw-dropping alliance they make this week.

But here they find themselves: Toyah, so desperate to be a mum her body aches; and Eva, horrified to learn she's expecting when she didn't plan to become pregnant. So what's the answer? Eva becoming Toyah's new surrogate, of course! However, as star Georgia Taylor – aka Toyah – tells us, it's not the simplest of solutions...

"There's no denying that what Toyah comes up with is bonkers, both in terms of practicality and how they make it work," reasons the actress. "Even as the words leave her mouth, she's still trying to figure it out. But Toyah knows that if she doesn't voice the idea, she'll regret it forever."

The plan that Toyah devises is for Eva to have her baby in secret and give

Mother of all problems:
Eva's predicament presents an opportunity for Toyah

Petering out: Georgia thinks that Toyah's relationship won't last forever

Pregnant pause: Eva can see that Toyah is desperate to be a mum the little'un to Toyah and her partner Peter – who still has no idea that their original surrogate, Jacqui, has miscarried. It may seem a foolhardy move, but Georgia can understand why Toyah does it...

"She feels dreadful about keeping Jacqui's miscarriage from Peter, as biologically this was his child too," explains 37-year-old Georgia. "He's been acting a bit strange since Christmas, which Toyah thinks has something to do with his ex Carla being back – but of course, it's the result of the revelation that Billy caused his sister Susan Barlow's death.

Because Peter is so fragile at the moment, Toyah thinks that if she gives him the news about losing the baby, he might start drinking again."

Meanwhile, Eva is keeping a massive secret of her own as she struggles to tell Aidan that she is carrying their child. Knowing that she is not ready for a baby – not to mention the can of worms it'll open regarding the dad – Eva makes the difficult decision to end her pregnancy.

So, as Toyah realises Eva's intentions, she pulls out all the stops to ensure Eva doesn't do something she might regret.

"The idea that Eva could be a surrogate for Toyah has been tiptoed around in previous conversations, but neither of them have dared to voice it," shares Georgia. "However, there is a moment at the clinic where Eva's appointment is running late, and as the nurse comes to get her, Toyah has a sudden rush of adrenalin when she realises that she only has a split second to say something. It just happens in the heat of the moment."

As a mixture of raw emotion and pent-up frustration comes pouring out of Toyah, Eva can see how much agony she's in – and eventually agrees to her risky scheme. But with Peter still in the dark as to what the pair are planning, are he and Toyah heading for heartbreak?

"I absolutely think this could be the end for them, as unfortunately their relationship has been based on secrets since day one," says Georgia. "This pact with Eva is going to be one secret too many – and it is the biggest secret of all! So, as much as I adore working with Chris [Gascoyne, who plays Peter], I do wonder if there's a future for them once this all comes out."

"To be honest, I'm amazed that Peter and Toyah have lasted this long – they should be on The Jeremy Kyle Show!" adds the star. "I love that they have, though, because myself and Chris have had so much fun working together. But I can't see them being strong enough to weather this. It's one catastrophe after another."

Laura-Jayne Tyler

I think this could be the end for Peter and Toyah's relationship

SISTER ACT!

The Battersby-Price babes are a big hit with fans of Coronation Street...

Strong women have always been at the heart of the Weatherfield drama, so we think it was a great move to put together Eva, Toyah and Leanne in the Rovers – and Georgia couldn't agree more...

"I absolutely love it," beams the actress.

"The dynamic between the sisters really works, and I love acting alongside Jane [Danson, who plays Leanne] and Cath Tyldesley [aka Eva]."

However, the fact that Toyah and Eva will be keeping such a huge secret from Leanne is surely set to cause some major fireworks!

"I guessed some months ago that Eva would end up becoming a surrogate for Toyah, though I figured that the show would do it in a more open way," confesses Georgia. "Leanne is not party to any of this at the moment, so at some point in the future there will be a big falling-out!"

There but for the Grace of God: Glenn has met his match

Lofty pursuit: Glenn is quite the flirt – Ellie and Cindy in one night!

We'll admit that it's taken us a while to get used to the fact that Glenn Donovan has had a face transplant – especially as it's coincided with us also finding out that he's actually one of the biggest bad guys Hollyoaks has ever seen! But the fact that he can give Grace a run for her money and still have time to charm the pants off the likes of Diane and Simone has left us wanting more.

When we chat to actor Bob Cryer, who took over the role of Glenn before Christmas, he tells us that playing a bad guy is "the most fun role I've ever had" – and that he loves being half of Hollyoaks' latest power couple...

Is Glenn a genuine family man, or does he just love to control?

What did you think of Glenn when you took over the role?

The thing that interested me the most was that he's somebody who, on the surface, seems like a nice family man with a few wrinkles round the edges. We think he's just got to straighten up his act a bit and make things right with his boys – but then we learn he's up to his neck in all sorts of stuff!

How do you feel about him and Grace being such a naughty pair?

I think it's brilliant! Grace is capable of scaring the living daylights out of any character, so it's great that Glenn doesn't seem fazed by her. He can hold his ground with her, and I'm enjoying that. You never know where you are with either character – and they don't know where they are with each other!

Do you think Glenn really loves Grace, or is he just playing games?

That's a very good question – and I'm not sure Glenn knows the answer! As an actor I think he does love her, but of course his instincts are to fight that. He's very macho, so he'd hate the idea of admitting that he loves someone. Though why put yourself through all of that unless there was some kind of deep-seated attachment?

But if that's the case, why does he make a move on Cindy this week?

That's just the way Glenn and Grace roll! Boredom is a real nuisance for them, because it gets them into trouble. As soon as they start to feel stable in a relationship, they both want to do something to mess it up. Taking off with someone else to annoy the other one seems pretty much fair game, so I think Glenn does it just to get back at Grace.

How important is family to Glenn?

This is a question I've been asking myself – is Glenn a genuine family man, or does he just love control? He certainly wants to keep his family close. I think it's partly about winning back the children who he feels he'd lost for a long time – but ultimately it's about controlling their decisions.

What feedback have you had from the viewers about Glenn?

I think people are really enjoying the fact that he's a proper villain with actual underworld connections. They like the way that Shane has come into the story, and they're seeing that this empire is starting to spill over into other families in the village. And there's a lot more of that to come...

What do your own family think of you being in Hollyoaks?

I have three daughters who are 10, 12 and 15 – so as you can imagine, they're having to field a lot of questions from their friends about what's going to happen in the show! But they're very excited about it, and also fascinated by the fact that I'm playing a father to boys – it's a window into what could have been! However, as to whether they think I'm a cool dad now, I couldn't possibly say. I'll leave that up to them to judge!

Daddy COOL

Bob loves being part of the Donovan clan...

"My earliest scenes were with Tam [Wall, aka Grace], and she's been my mentor on set. She's such fun – we're having a great time watching our characters fall in and out of love, not knowing what's next!"

"The boys [Luke Jerdy, aka Jesse, and Jimmy Essex, who plays Adam] have been so welcoming. They're passionate about the show, and excited about what having Glenn back in the picture means for the family."

"We haven't seen the last of Darcy's involvement with the Donovans! There are still decisions to be made about Toby, so I wouldn't be surprised if we saw Glenn and Darcy come to blows over him again soon."

"Little Lucas Haywood, who plays Toby, is a quadruple threat! He can act, sing, dance and tell jokes – it's embarrassing, and I'm quite jealous! But he's brilliant in the role, and a lot of fun to have around."

"All we can do is imagine what Glenn's relationship with his ex Tracey would have been like. It's a shame I never got to work with Lisa Maxwell, who played her – but there's always the opportunity for flashbacks..."

“If Kim has to learn for herself what Vincent's up to, she will not be happy!" Tameka Empson is about to talk us through the state of her no-nonsense character's marriage, as Kim's husband Vincent keeps his issues with gangster Aidan to himself. But surely he knows that Aidan is a walk in the park compared with his formidable missus? Tameka tells us exactly what Vincent's in for should he fail to come clean...

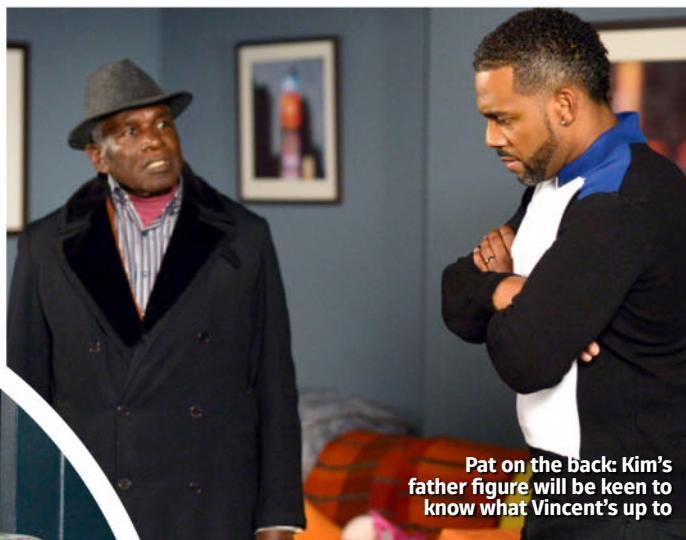

"If Vincent knows Kim, then he knows that he better tell her before she works it out for herself," insists the star. "If not, with the levels of what could possibly happen to them, and how their life is going to change for the worse, I don't think she'll be forgiving him any time soon. Vincent is doing what he's doing for the good of the family, he's not being malicious. But it all depends on how Kim finds out!"

What Vincent has been keeping secret is that he's being blackmailed by Aidan over the death of his brother, who died by suicide in prison after Vincent grassed him up to the police. He's having to sell The Albert to stump up the cash Aidan is demanding, but his sneaking around has aroused Kim's suspicions. And typically, she's putting two and two together – which can only lead to disaster.

Cunning as a Fox-Hubbard: Vincent will have trouble keeping secrets from his wife

“She'll scratch Vincent's eyes out over this... but Kim is a survivor!”

AS KIM LEARNS VINCENT'S IN BOTHER, TAMEKA EMPSON INSISTS HER ALTER EGO WILL FIGHT BACK...

Pat on the back: Kim's father figure will be keen to know what Vincent's up to

"She knows something is up, and thinks he's having an affair," sighs Tameka. "Vincent has always been attentive to Kim's needs, but after her miscarriage, she's trying to get pregnant again – and he's not as enthusiastic as he was before. And because he's acting shiftily, it gives Kim reason to doubt herself. He's not there when she needs him, and it unnerves her. Kim thinks he might be playing her."

Of course, we can't blame Vincent for not being up front about the bother he's in. Aidan's expensive demands could well bankrupt the successful businessman – and with Kim having taken to a life of luxury like a duck to water, we wouldn't expect her to embrace the prospect of austerity! But Tameka reckons Kim might yet surprise us.

"Kim is the sort of woman, like Hyacinth Bucket, where it's all about keeping up appearances," shares the 40-year-old. "Smiling on the outside while inside it's turmoil. I can see her scratching Vincent's eyes out over this, but I can also see her digging deep as Kim is a survivor.

"She's also a good mum, and she has a great guy who allows her to be her. So if the tables are going to be turned, and Kim goes from living the life of Riley to counting the pennies, then I think she will try to keep the family together."

However, as her hubby avoids admitting the whole truth, Kim turns to father figure Patrick for advice. As always, Patrick has wise words aplenty – but don't forget that Kim's no pushover, and her own unique brand of girl power might turn out to be exactly what stressed-out Vincent needs.

"Kim and Vincent really do love each other, and I hope that their marriage could survive this," claims Tameka. "She knows that Patrick will tell her the truth, but Kim loves and gives deeply, and she's also quite savvy. So I'm hoping that she's got a lovely bank account somewhere [laughs]. Or at the very least, she'll find a way to keep the house – it's her palace!"

Allison Jones

The cheat is on: Kim has suspicions that Vincent is having an affair

SIS or MISS?

Kim wants the truth about her and Denise...

While sharing her marital woes with Patrick, Kim also confides in him that she intends to arrange a DNA test to determine whether she and Denise are blood-related.

The pair were stunned when Emerald – the woman they had always believed to be their mum – claimed she wasn't Denise's parent after all, and that Denise's uncle had left Denise in her care when she was a youngster.

Initially hoping to carry out the test surreptitiously, Kim ropes in Denise's fiancé Kush for help with getting a DNA sample from her. But of course, Denise soon realises something's up, and Kim is forced to tell her the truth. Will Denise agree to do the test?

The REPLACEMENT!

CAN ETHAN FILL CONNIE'S SHOES AS CLINICAL LEAD? GEORGE RAINSFORD ISN'T SO SURE...

There's a new head honcho in charge of Holby City's ED this week – and he's nothing like his fearsome predecessor, Connie Beauchamp! With ruthless Connie recovering from heart surgery, it falls to her young protégé Ethan Hardy to take the helm of the department, and step into her shoes as clinical lead. So has the mild-mannered medic got what it takes to keep the ED running smoothly?

"He's certainly not up to it at the start – and I'm not totally convinced he gets any better," chuckles star George Rainsford, who's played Ethan for the past four years. "He's previously done one shift as clinical lead, and in the world of Casualty that's as good a qualification as any! But it takes him right out of his comfort zone – he has a lot of pressure from management, he's having to tell his colleagues what to do, and Connie is a continuing presence for him. Ethan's juggling a lot of things at once."

Connie may be recuperating from a major operation and fighting cancer at the same time, but that still doesn't keep her away from the ED. And when she comes down from the cancer ward with a patient, she certainly has a thing or two to say about her replacement.

"Ethan doesn't even know if Connie is aware that he's taken over from her," explains George. "So there's an awkward conversation about that, where she tells him that she does know and gives him a very Connie-esque blessing – she says something along the lines of, 'Well, you will do a pretty bad job!'. So she's already twisting the knife and predicting that things won't go very well."

It's not a great start to the job for poor Ethan. And things are about to get worse, as Louise brings it to his attention that Dylan has been drinking at work (see p34) – leaving Ethan with a very big dilemma.

"That's a massive issue for Ethan to deal with straight away," sighs George. "It's tough because Dylan is a consultant, and Ethan's only just qualified. So Dylan is of a much higher status, and a difficult person to manage in many ways. It's not an easy situation for Ethan, especially when Dylan is in denial about his behaviour. But the good thing is that Ethan really cares about people, so he doesn't want everyone to know about Dylan's issues."

It's clear that Ethan is feeling the pressure as the day goes on – and George admits that being the ED boss hasn't been easy for him in real life, either!

"For weeks on end I was playing scenes where Ethan was overworked, stressed and slightly fraught, and that does get into you a little bit," he confesses. "I was in the studio constantly, and I suddenly had a new admiration for Amanda Mealing [Connie], who has that kind of workload all the time. Often after a busy storyline you get a few days off, or at least a scene off so you can go back to your dressing room and have a cup of tea. But when you're in every single scene, it's a lot harder."

So having seen the sacrifices that are required to be a successful people manager, would George ever fancy being the boss of the Holby City Hospital ED?

"I have been in charge of things in the past, but I don't think that I'm responsible enough to be a boss!" he tells us. "I contradict myself because I'm often the clown of the group, so I don't think I lead very well from the front."

"Amanda would make a great boss, though – she's been directing some episodes recently, and she does command respect doing that. And obviously Derek Thompson [Charlie] is our resident godfather, so he'd be good at being in charge of us all. Having said that, he does just disappear to play his guitar at regular intervals!"

Sarah Ellis

The young DOCTORS

George recently celebrated his fourth anniversary on Casualty – and with a host of new characters due to join the show soon, he's getting used to his status as an ED veteran.

"It's a really strange feeling to be one of the stalwarts of the show," he exclaims. "But we have some very nice new people coming in. There's a new character called Bea, and Ethan sort of mentors her, so we have a lot of scenes together. It's nice that Ethan is looking after somebody, as I've never really had that before."

So with all these new actors being welcomed into the Casualty family, what advice would George give them?

"Take the work seriously, but don't take yourself too seriously," he grins. "Often it feels like we exist in a little bubble because we work really long hours – but we still have fun. We are just making a TV show after all. It's not really life-and-death!"

JESSICA ELLIS

Hollyoaks' Tegan Lomax
...faces your questions!

Being attacked by killer Ryan was by far the scariest moment of Tegan's life – but will star Jess be just as terrified when she faces our readers' probing questions?

“Who is your best friend among the cast at Hollyoaks? ”

Daisy Wood-Davis, who plays Kim. We've just got back from a holiday together – we went to Gran Canaria for a bit of winter sun, and it was really fun. When we were doing the 'Gloved Hand Killer' storyline we were together all the time on screen, but we've not done much stuff lately. We still see each other outside of work pretty much every day, though.

“What do you make of Tegan's style, and is it like your own? ”

“Which ex-cast mate do you miss most? ”

There are some outfits of Tegan's that I wouldn't wear, but I do have a lot of input – she's quite out there, and likes to try different things. I have been known to walk into work in a shirt, then go to my costume rail and find the same shirt on there! That was the point when I realised I need some new clothes. But I'll pretty much wear anything as long as I feel comfortable.

“Has Tegan forgotten about her daughter Rose? We never see her... ”
I think she's in a cupboard! We actually have a new girl playing Rose, so I reckon there will be upcoming storylines with her, and we will revisit the whole baby-swap thing with Diane. So don't worry, we will be seeing a lot more of Rose! Which is great as I really miss working with her.

Keep Cam and carry on: Jess misses working with her former cast mate

One Love: Kissing Duncan stops Jess feeling Blue

“Can you tell us a secret about Kirsty-Leigh Porter, who plays Leela? ”

We call each other 'sister', as we've spent so much time together playing sisters on Hollyoaks – and I'm an only child as well, so I do see her as a sibling. But she's a bit naughty – when we both walk on to set, the directors are like, "Oh God, here they are"! They know there will be mischief with us two, and we like to team up against Kieron Richardson [aka Ste]!

“What is it like snogging Duncan from Blue? ”

Precious poo-ch: The star's cute dog Bob has a taste for waste!

Ha ha! Obviously my 15-year-old self is like, 'What?!'. I can't get my head around it. But he's a great kisser, and he's fulfilling one of my teenage dreams! We've done so much stuff together recently, and we've actually become really good friends. So I definitely don't mind coming into work and kissing him – it's not the worst thing in the world!

"Everyone at Hollyoaks says that you throw the best parties! So what are your top tips for hosting the perfect soiree?"

Firstly, make sure you have enough food and wine to feed an army. The more your guests drink, the more they think they're having a good time. Also I've just created a games tower so people have something to play.

Everyone's always round at mine having dinner so I think people feel comfortable here anyway, and my house is full of odd bits and bobs that are quite entertaining. There's basically just no rules at my house!

"Which of your ex-cast mates do you miss the most?"

I really miss Fab [Santino], who played Ziggy Roscoe, as we spent so much time together. In the months leading up to when he was going, we'd get to certain scenes and I'd just cry! I also miss Cam Moore [who played Cameron Campbell] – me, Cam, Kirsty-Leigh and Kieron were a bit of a team on set.

"What job do you think you'd be doing if you weren't an actress?"

Fresh as a Daisy: Jess counts Kim's real-life alter ego as her best mate at Hollyoaks

Life and soul: Jess is quite often credited with throwing the best parties by her Chester colleagues

“What are your top tips for hosting a party?”

In between acting jobs I used to work as a nanny, and I worked in special needs schools. I think that would be an avenue I would go down. My mum is a special needs teacher as well, so I've always been interested in that.

"Do you think that you would make a good nurse in real life?"

Absolutely not! I have a phobia about ears. Also I'm never ill, so I don't have much sympathy for other people when they have colds or whatever. Being sympathetic is one of the foundations of being a nurse, and I don't have it in me.

"I love seeing pictures of your little dog Bob on Instagram. What's the naughtiest thing he's ever done?"

I was looking after my mum and dad's cat over the summer when they went on holiday – and I had to give the cat a separate room upstairs because Bob just kept eating Reggie the cat's poo!

"What are you most looking forward to this year?"

My best friend is getting married and I'm maid of honour for her, so I'm looking forward to that. Also one of the make-up girls from Hollyoaks is getting married in Spain, and I'm going over there for that. Then I have the hen dos too, so I'm really excited for all of it.

“If you could cast anyone as Tegan’s next love interest, who would you want it to be and why?”

...asks reader Rachel Fitzsimmons from Shoreham-by-Sea

£20 Question winner!

I would cast Alan Davies from Jonathan Creek – that's my Mastermind subject. It's my favourite programme! Also he is my secret crush, so I would like him to be Tegan's older man. She does like an older man!

Every week, we put your questions to a star of the soaps. Look out for requests on our Facebook page, or email your questions to youask@insidesoap.co.uk, putting the actor's name in the subject line. Our favourite question each week will win a £20 prize!

LIFE AFTER DEATH

LYDIA WILSON AND JOEL FRY STAR IN THE STORY OF A YOUNG MUSICIAN LEARNING SOME UNSETTLING HOME TRUTHS...

We strongly advise getting some extra padding on the edge of your seat, because you'll be spending a lot of time there thanks to this new six-part thriller. In Requiem, talented cellist Matilda is devastated after witnessing her mother Janice's suicide, and can't begin to fathom what might have driven her mum to such an act.

Matilda's confusion over Janice's fate is compounded when she returns to her mum's house and finds a box on her bed full of photos and newspaper clippings, all relating to the disappearance of a young girl called Carys Howell from a Welsh village over 20 years ago. Unable to process what this means, Matilda and her accompanist Hal decide to visit Penllynith in search of answers – but their trip only serves to raise more questions about the past...

"Matilda is on a mission that seems quite selfish a lot of the time because it's disturbing everybody around her and pushing away her best mate," reveals Lydia Wilson, who plays Matilda. "I didn't ever think of her as a very healthy thing for the town, but I believed in her motives – everyone should wake up and find out the truth rather than living in delusion!"

"Hal's her pianist and her friend, and he might love her a little bit," teases Joel Fry, who plays him. "He's the constant link to her present professional world, from a different life that might not have been all that she thought it was."

Upon arriving in Penllynith, Matilda learns that local landowner Ewan Dean also killed himself in suspicious circumstances the day before her mother died, and she feels that it can't be a coincidence. The situation drives her to strike up a friendship with Ewan's heir and nephew, Nick – a fellow outsider trying to find his place in the village.

"Matilda isn't welcome," explains Lydia. "I think she's a bit of a cipher for things that are already brewing in the town as she is quite a provocative influence. She's constantly knocking on doors and having them slammed in her face every five minutes, but she doesn't stop."

Playing the role of a celebrated cellist meant Lydia had to look convincing playing the instrument on camera – but luckily she was able to call on a friend for assistance.

"My mate Joe is a classical cellist and he taught me how to blag it," she grins. "And then someone said, 'Can you really play?', so I tried to play Baa Baa Black Sheep – but I couldn't play a note! I promised I'd carry on learning, but I was renting the cello and had to give it back."

The West Wing

I end up watching things later than most people. I only watched the first season of Stranger Things a few weeks ago! But I devoured it incredibly quickly. It was an amazing mix of the old and the new: refreshing ideas, great stories, but combined with this powerful nostalgic element.

My son has just turned two, and I thought that Motherland perfectly captured the chaos of life as a parent. The politics of childminding and favours, trying to give yourself as much free time as possible – all things that resonate for us at the moment, I'm afraid to say!

Saved By The Bell

Godfather is the one that most deserves its place on the list – it's practically perfect as a piece of filmmaking.

For me, The West Wing is almost the best piece of television ever made. It's endlessly rewatchable, but the downside is that it makes you feel stupid. They all speak with such intelligence and can pull on all sorts of amazing literary references at will!

GORDON BUCHANAN TELLS US HOW THE ANIMAL STARS OF THIS NEW SERIES DID THEIR OWN FILMING...

One of the marvels of modern wildlife films is the evolution of camera technology that allows us to see things we never could before. In this new three-part series, the animals themselves are given specially-designed cameras to wear, and the footage they capture gives us a close-up perspective on their lives.

Inside TV chatted to wildlife cameraman Gordon Buchanan about how this series is changing the game...

Were you worried about entrusting the animals with cameras?

At the beginning I think my fears were over the number of things that could go wrong. One was the technology – most of these things were mini-Frankenstein's monsters of bits of other things that had been put together to do this specific task, plus in the case of the smaller animals we had to design cameras from scratch. And while deploying the cameras is one thing, retrieving them is another! But with each animal, as we got the results in, my fear was that I was putting myself out of a job – the animals were able to film more interesting things themselves than I ever was!

you're setting up the camera. The meerkats were about the easiest, but getting the cameras back was a bit nerve-wracking – they're made of soft neoprene, so if the meerkats find it uncomfortable they can take it off. But what we didn't want was for them to be taking off the cameras four feet underground in a labyrinth of tunnels!

Monkey business: Kimbang the chimp inspects her camera

We see in the series that it wasn't always easy to get the animals to wear the cameras – Kimbang the chimp in episode one takes several attempts...

That was the first trip we did, and I was really surprised by how difficult it was, even with a chimpanzee that is so used to being around people. Obviously they're incredibly strong and destructive, and you have to take that into account when

What were the biggest challenges of filming the animals in this way?

The safety and welfare of the animals is paramount, so that's where you start off – what weight can the camera be? You have to think, 'Where is the best place to have a camera on this animal? Where will it be least obstructive? Where are we going to get the best view?' For me, it was thinking about animals in a

DIARMUID GAVIN BARGES IN ON A SEDATE RIVERBOAT EXPERIENCE...

CELEBRITY 5 GO BARGING | Channel 5 FRIDAY

Five novice narrowboaters including Tony Christie, Penny Smith, Tom Conti and Tessa Sanderson are let loose on the French waterways in this new four-part series. We caught up with fellow traveller Diarmuid Gavin to find out what life was like on board...

"I think if you've never taken that sort of boating holiday, everyone has idealised it in their minds minds," Diarmuid tells Inside TV. "I attempted organising a boating holiday for my 50th, but it never worked out – so the dream was still there!"

While all five celebrity holidaymakers had to quickly learn how to take charge of the boats, Diarmuid informs us that some of them took to it much faster than others.

"Tom Conti was incredibly assured – we gave him the skipper's cap straight away!" he reveals. "And Penny wasn't bad either."

As the five stars were living in such close proximity, there was always potential for them to get on each other's nerves – and Diarmuid couldn't resist a bit of mischief...

"I'm dangerous when I'm bored!" he chuckles. "Tony was in the room next to me and we were separated by a very thin wall, and I remember banging out the beat to Is This The Way To Amarillo once or twice – probably in the middle of the night!"

very different way. As a wildlife cameraman you spend so much time watching them from quite great distances, so this was an opportunity to think, 'Hopefully this animal is going to take us with it to see the world from its point of view'.

Do you think you managed to achieve what you set out to do?

It was never about, 'Let's put a camera on an eagle and let it fly about' – the heart of it was unanswered questions, and speaking to scientists and asking them what they wanted to find out about these animals that they can only see with this sort of visual reference. It was quite tense to sit down with a scientist who in some cases had been studying the animal of choice for 15-20 years, and for them to be blown away by what they were seeing!

From murderer to mum: Former Hollyoaks actress Sophie Austin (Lindsey Roscoe) plays Marjory

A FRIEND IN NEED

JENNIFER KIRBY TELLS US HOW VALERIE STEPS UP WHEN A PATIENT'S MOTHER TURNS ON LUCILLE...

Apparently there's no such thing as a day off for the midwives of Nonnatus House, as this week Valerie comes off a night shift to get her hair done at the salon run by her friend Marjory and Marjory's mum Mae – only for Marjory to go into labour. Lucille is called to attend the birth and it's clear from the moment she arrives that Mae is prejudiced against her. Fortunately the birth goes smoothly, but when Marjory becomes seriously ill afterwards, Mae's racism feeds into her anger and leads her to blame Lucille.

Inside TV caught up with Jennifer Kirby, who plays Valerie, to find out how her character handles being caught in the middle...

How does Val react to this treatment of Lucille?

I don't think that she's ever thought before, 'I need to look at the people around me and question what their views are', and Lucille's introduction into her life makes her think more acutely about that. Val's a character who's very aware of injustice, so there's a real turning point for her in this episode – someone she's grown close to is being directly affected by this, so she realises she needs to make a stand.

Do you think Val and Lucille make natural allies, as the two newest midwives?

I think so – and I think Valerie especially sees in Lucille somebody who has had to deal with a lot in her life, and Valerie has in her own way as well, so they kind of connect over that. Especially as they are both newcomers – and as an actor as well, it was nice to have somebody new coming on board and to talk about the show with them.

Valerie struggled in the Christmas special with the baby she thought was stillborn – how does that affect her in this series?

It definitely makes her open up and confide in people more, so it has a positive effect in the long run.

When you have a knock in confidence like that, I think sometimes it can make you see things a bit differently.

What reaction have you had from viewers since joining the show last year?

It's been lovely! People say such nice things about the show – how it makes them cry, and how they're so pleased it's on, so that's been the big thing for me, just realising how much it affects people and how important it is. It's lovely being part of something that's almost an institution!

Do you feel confident with the birthing scenes now?

We're really lucky in that we have Terri Coates, who's the midwife adviser on set and is absolutely brilliant. She's always very hot on things being factual and accurate, and she's right there to tell you everything, and show you where your hand needs to be and in what position! I'm not even one-millionth as skilled as an actual midwife, but it's been really lovely learning about it!

Getting back

HOLOCAUST: THE REVENGE PLOT | Channel 4 9PM

The nonagenarian subjects of this one-off documentary seem very ordinary and unassuming at first glance – but they are all connected by a secret that stretches back 70 years.

They're a group of Holocaust survivors who didn't see the trials of Nazis for war crimes as an adequate punishment for everything that they had been through, and had a much more drastic payback in mind: killing six million Germans in revenge for the six million Jews who had been murdered by the Nazis.

This film, based on testimony from the group's last survivors (some of whom are speaking for the first time) explores their shocking plan. It reveals how they were brought together by their anger – and how they feel about it all these years later.

Deep water

VERA | ITV 8PM

Secrets abound in the final case of the current series, as Vera and Aiden investigate the death of teenager Ethan, whose body was found floating in a reservoir.

The revelation that Ethan had been missing for three days before his body was discovered prompts the team to delve into the rural community where Ethan lived in order to find answers. However, most of the locals seem less than forthcoming with helpful information. There's obviously something extremely complicated going on among Ethan's friends and family, but what is it exactly?

Although this is our last Vera mystery for the time being, the viewing figures for this series have been strong, so we reckon there'll be more on the way as long as Brenda Blethyn's happy to don the hat and mac again. Watch this space for news...

Over the edge

SAS: WHO DARES WINS | Channel 4 9PM

This week on the show that we affectionately refer to as "rather them than us, thanks", the remaining candidates are asked to demonstrate their trust in the instructors by diving backwards off a gangplank into a reservoir. Blindfolded. This, of course, is merely a gentle warm-up for the next part of the process: resistance to interrogation, where they will be relentlessly questioned and harangued by expert interrogators to see if they'll crack under pressure.

UNSPUN WITH MATT FORDE | Dave 10PM

Matt's back tonight with a fourth series of his acerbic take on the news. We'd love to tell you more about what's in store, but the show is so topical that it doesn't record until the day of transmission.

Matt's form over the previous three series speaks for itself though, as does his ability to attract guests ranging from Tony Blair to Sayeeda Warsi, so we look forward to seeing who he has lined up...

HAWAII FIVE-0 | Sky One 9PM

When one of the team's informants is killed during a phone call with McGarrett, the Five-0 realise that somebody has been leaking the identities of their sources. They have to act fast, before any more informants suffer a grim fate...

NCIS: LOS ANGELES | Sky One 10PM

Following the theft of weapons worth $1 million, the team uncover links to a charity event for the rich and powerful. So Mosley manages to get herself added to the guest list – with Callan and Sam assigned as her security detail.

Feeling the Burns

TWO DOORS DOWN | BBC2 10PM

Beth and Eric have the neighbours round again, as a new series of the sitcom kicks off – and for once they're not hosting against their will.

It's Burns Night (or "Burns Day", if you're Cathy) and they're welcoming Colin and Cathy and Ian and Gordon over for a haggis supper. Oh, and Christine is there too, having got back early from visiting Sophie in North Wales, where she's cohabiting with a man of whom Christine does not approve one bit.

As is usually the way in Latimer Crescent, it soon becomes pretty awkward thanks to Cathy's preoccupation with one of Colin's exes, and that's before Beth's even put the food on the table. Still, maybe Gordon can save the evening with a Proclaimers singalong?

Taking care

SILENT WITNESS | BBC1 9PM

A suspicious death is linked to a care home for disabled people in this week's two-parter, which prompts Clarissa to take matters into her own hands by renting a room in the home. "A storyline about disabled people who are both victims and potential perpetrators is really confronting for Clarissa," muses Liz Carr, who plays her. "I think people have loved my character for the fact that we don't labour her disability – but this is one plot where it is actually relevant."

MURDOCH MYSTERIES | Alibi 9PM

Murdoch, Crabtree and Dr Ogden visit the Toronto Medical Exposition this week, where Ogden is frustrated by the lack of interest by women to sign up for medical school. A scandal hits the event later when a pioneering surgeon attempts an organ transplant in front of a live audience – but when his patient bleeds to death, the surgeon comes to Murdoch pleading sabotage and asking for help.

ACTIVE SHOOTER: AMERICA UNDER FIRE | Sky Atlantic 9PM

The third episode looks at the impact of white supremacist Dylann Roof shooting dead nine members of a Bible study class in South Carolina. Roof's crime sparked division in the community over whether he could ever be forgiven.

INSIDE THE AMBULANCE | W 8PM

We rejoin the West Midlands Ambulance Service for the second and final week of night ride-alongs tonight. The paramedics are called out to attend a patient who has fallen over following a recent operation to remove his toes.

TROLLED | Sky One 10PM

There's a shock for Gavin in tonight's episode, as his mum (played by Gwen Taylor) pays Valco a visit – but what does she want?

"She's controlling, and does her best to embarrass Gavin," reveals Jason Watkins, who plays him. "She treats him like a little boy – she thinks she should still be getting his school uniform on! But she has an agenda..."

Elsewhere, it's time for staff appraisals, and Katie isn't about to go easy on Colin.

HOW TO GET AWAY WITH MURDER | Sky Living 10PM

Annalise's latest case sees her working for the president of Middleton University – and alongside Michaela again. Meanwhile, Oliver reaches out to Conor's father who wants to get back in touch, and Laurel falls back into an old habit.

THE BLACKLIST | Sky One 9PM

The taskforce are on the trail of an international terrorist, and it seems they're not the only ones, as the CIA are looking for the same suspect. Meanwhile, Tom goes undercover to investigate whether Red was involved in a murder.

Closing arguments

DON'T Miss!

KIRI | Channel 4 9PM

There's an awful lot of reflection going on in the final episode of this unmissable drama: there's Alice waking up full of regret over her actions the night before; there's Tobi having to decide whether to stand by his son; there's Si realising why his mother has been so distant recently; and then there's Miriam deciding that the time has finally come to take responsibility.

There are so many powerful scenes in this finale that it almost seems unfair to single any of them out – but let's just say that the moment where Miriam hears the outcome of the inquiry brings such a powerhouse performance from Sarah Lancashire, that we expect to see a clip from it shown during the Best Actress nominations at next year's Bafta TV Awards.

Seeing the light

WONDERS OF THE MOON | BBC1 9PM

This one-off documentary offers a fresh perspective on the night sky. Thanks to some highly detailed high-tech imagery, we'll get to see the full monthly cycle of the moon from wax to wane. The programme also offers new explanations of how the cycles of the moon affect life down here on Earth – and examines how the sun, the moon and the Earth aligned last year to deliver the first total solar eclipse seen in America for nearly a century.

GOMORRAH | Sky Atlantic 9PM

The hit Mafia drama from Italy returns tonight for a new 12-part series, and opens with the clan in disarray following the death of a major mobster. Since organised crime syndicates are not known for taking assaults on their members lightly, the Camorra are determined to get vengeance – but there's also the very loaded question of who will step up to take the place of the deceased.

STACEY DOOLEY: FACE TO FACE WITH ISIS | BBC3 10AM

In February last year, certain forms of domestic violence were decriminalised in Russia, so Stacey sets out to see how the new laws are affecting women. She meets hardliners, as well as abuse survivors who have been forced into hiding.

STRIKE BACK: RETRIBUTION | Sky One 9PM

Section 20 are back from the break, and they're running out of time now that Lowry and Markov have finished work on their deadly chemical. Can our all-action heroes prevent the gas from being released in a busy airport?

Killer questions

DEATH ROW 2018 WITH TREVOR McDONALD | ITV 9PM

Back in 2012, Sir Trevor made a documentary at Indiana State Prison's death row where he spoke to the inmates about the reality of having a death sentence hanging over them.

Five years later, he returns to the prison, unsure whether any of the men he spoke to on his first visit would still be there – but several of them are, awaiting a date for their execution and happy to chat to Trevor about how things have been. From his catch-up chat with Benjamin Ritchie, Trevor soon discovers a source of tension between the prisoners: a shared loathing of fellow inmate Frederick Baer.

There are also new prisoners for Trevor to meet, including serial killer William Gibson, who speaks publicly about his crimes for the first time.

Call of duty

DEATH IN PARADISE | BBC1 9PM

Finn Anderson is panic-stricken when he receives a voicemail from his wife, Daisy, where he can hear her being attacked. After the police find her stabbed to death a short distance from the Saint Marie Yacht Club, Jack narrows the field of suspicion down to club secretary Charlotte (Pippa Haywood), chairman Hugh (John Sessions) and Finn himself – but a curiosity in Daisy's clothing catches Jack's attention, and requires help from Commissioner Selwyn to solve.

THE ORVILLE | Fox 9PM

This week, Finn and Isaac find themselves separated from the ship and in great danger, after an ill-fated shuttle trip sees them crash-landing on a planet that is beset by famine and disease – and also has some cannibalistic inhabitants. To make matters worse, after Finn is taken prisoner, Isaac is left in charge of her two sons – and caring for human children is not one of his key skills. Will they all survive long enough for help to arrive?

BRITANNIA | Sky Atlantic 9PM

Aulus returns to camp this week having journeyed to the underworld – but how will his outlook have changed? Meanwhile, Cait works out that her father is being held by the Roman army, but she needs help arranging a rescue.

MADAM SECRETARY | Sky Living 10PM

Murmurs about Elizabeth running for President are making Vice-President Hurst rather uncomfortable. So she tries to sabotage her this week by deliberately putting Elizabeth in a seemingly unwinnable position.

Battle of the sexes

CELEBRITY BIG BROTHER: LIVE FINAL | Channel 5 9PM

This series launched with an all-female cast and trumpeted itself as The Year Of The Woman – although the inclusion of the dire 'Dapper Laughs' three days later made us doubt the sincerity of that gesture. Nonetheless, it will be interesting to see who the public decides to crown the winner of a series that has tried to encourage discussions about gender roles in modern life, however hamfisted the execution may have been on occasions.

At the time of going to press, drag queen Courtney Act was the clear favourite to win, but Ann Widdecombe and Shane Lynch were nipping at her heels (apologies for that mental image). Once your votes have been counted, Emma Willis will be dismissing the celebs until we're left with our winner...

Food for thought

NIGEL SLATER'S MIDDLE EAST | BBC2 9PM

Nigel embarks on a new culinary tour in this three-part series, in which he'll be exploring recipes with rich histories. The first leg of his trip takes him to Lebanon, where Nigel will be meeting some home cooks to find out about the joys of everyday dishes. Starting out in Beirut at the end of Ramadan, Nigel joins a local family for their Eid celebration and, as he travels onwards, he considers how the food of Lebanon reflects the country's tumultuous history.

ALTERED CARBON | Netflix

Joel Kinnaman stars in this new sci-fi thriller set 300 years in the future, where human consciousness can be passed from one body to another – so death is no longer a concern. Takeshi Kovacs has had his mind imprisoned for centuries until wealthy Laurens Bancroft offers him the chance to live again. In exchange, Bancroft wants Kovacs to solve a murder – Bancroft's own, in fact. Confused? Us too, but it's a mystery we're looking forward to getting lost in...

HITS, HYPE & HUSTLE... | BBC4 9PM

In the final instalment, music PR Alan Edwards explains how lucrative big reunions have become these days. Describing what drove them to get the band back together are Debbie Harry, Shaun Ryder and Sex Pistols bassist Glen Matlock.

MODERN FAMILY | Sky One 8.30PM

The sitcom's 200th episode sees Phil rushed to hospital for surgery after experiencing stomach pains. While they wait for news, the rest of the clan start pondering their own mortality – which leads them to some awkward questions...

SHOW

THE CASE OF THE FRIGHTENED LADY

Edgar Wallace's most celebrated work comes to the stage in this brand-new adaptation. Starring former Coronation Street actor Gray O'Brien (Tony Gordon) and ex-EastEnder Charlie Clements (Bradley Branning), the show is touring the UK until 4 August – for information and to buy tickets, visit www.kenwright.com

BOX-SET THE TUNNEL: VENGEANCE

The Tunnel returns for a gripping third series. Reuniting Stephen Dillane and Clémence Poésy as Karl and Elise, the hard-hitting drama sees the pair join forces for another dark case after a stolen fishing boat is found adrift.

BOOK DOCTOR WHO AND THE KRIKKITMEN: THE LOST ADVENTURE

by Douglas Adams and James Goss

The Doctor and Romana are in for a tense Krikkit match as they're dragged into a tale of Slow Time, genocide and a quest to find five pieces of the key to a special prison...

STAR CHOICE

EastEnders' Lorraine Stanley (Karen)

"I recently watched Jawbone, which stars Johnny Harris, who is a good friend of mine. He is a great actor, and he wrote the film, which is all about boxing. So I highly recommend it!"

DVD VICTORIA & ABDUL

Queen Victoria finds unexpected companionship with a humble servant from India in this uplifting story based on true events. Stars Judi Dench and Ali Fazal. Victoria & Abdul is available via Blu-ray and DVD now.

BOOK

BRIEFLY MAIDEN by Jacqueline Chadwick

Prepare for another dark tale in the second Ali Dalgish novel from ex-Corrie star Jacqueline, aka Linda Baldwin. Working with Vancouver Island police, Ali must solve a series of murders linked to a paedophile ring...

REBECCA
- BUT WHAT DOES SHE REMEMBER?

Memory pain!

Lachlan has been a bag of nerves since causing the car crash that killed his mum and grandad – because there's still one survivor who could blow his cover! And next week, the lad's Auntie Rebecca finally opens her eyes. But can she recall what happened that fateful day and expose her nephew's murderous secret? Or has Lachlan got away with the deed scot-free?

Billy no mates!

An old friend and an old flame make sure that the undertaker's mistakes are no longer dead and buried – but can Billy fix things? Or is this the final nail in his coffin?

NEIGHBOURS Cat got Tyler's tongue?
HOME AND AWAY Olivia in trouble!
CASUALTY New doc on the block...

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT 'THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

You know you've overdone the fake tan, Sean, when you find yourself a few shades darker than Tyrone's terracotta kitchen.

Forget Pat Phelan – if there was ever a character born to get away with murder on Coronation Street, it's Ruby Dobbs. She's a proper little madam and no mistake!

Eileen rustled up a full roast dinner – and treacle pudding with custard for afters – on a Monday night. Where does she find the energy?

Actress Debbie Rush has been absolutely outstanding during Anna's trial. The verdict was horrifying... But if she doesn't return for Phelan's downfall, we're storming ITV Studios.

Aw, doesn't Robert look lovely? Like an old Athena poster from the 80s. (But that room! Who could possibly live with such a disgusting shade of green?)

We were starting to wonder what poor Lorna Fitzgerald had done to deserve Abi's drawn-out exit, stuck in a bed for three weeks after her spectacular Queen Vic fall. But EastEnders was clearly building up to the heart-wrenching all-Branning farewell, which saw the entire (surviving) family unite to give Abi the poignant and powerful exit she deserved.

We're in bits!

Brilliant work from Hollyoaks' Ross Adams this week, as Scott faced up to his mum's cancer. (And we always like Ross' gel-free 'serious acting' hairdo.)

Skillful Negotiation Of The Week was Roy defusing the tension between the Connor and Battersby women. They should draft him in for talks between Kim Jong-un and Donald Trump.

Oh, Corrie. We didn't like Angry Simon the last time. We still don't like him now. And Leanne's clearly even less thrilled than we are.

For a nanosecond, we legit thought Ross Barton had wandered into Ian Beale's house. What a welcome twist that would have been!

At least we had some closure from Chrissie White's death. Inside Soap has tried every variation over the years: 'Lachy', 'Lockie'... But we finally learned the true spelling of 'Lucky'.

It really bothers us that Ian pronounces Masood's name 'MAZUD'. They've lived on the same Square on and off for over 10 years, and he still can't get it right. So ignorant!
